

Conference of Scientific Cooperation between Lower Saxony and Israel

organized by Braunschweigische Wissenschaftliche Gesellschaft

Save the date!

7.-8. March 2022, Leibnizhaus, Hannover (Germany)

Dear grant holders of the Niedersachsen Vorab program, please save the date for the next Conference of Scientific Cooperation between Lower Saxony and Israel!

The “Conference of Scientific Cooperation between Lower Saxony and Israel” will be the fifth conference of this kind and is intended to showcase the excellent research collaboration projects between Universities in Lower Saxony and Israel. The conference takes place every two years in the beautiful Leibnizhaus in Hannover, Germany. During the conference, the latest results from the Niedersachsen Vorab program will be presented and discussed with a broader audience. We are also always looking forward to attracting junior researchers looking for new collaborations and are planning to make travel stipends for them available. Please forward this flyer to interested junior researchers in your department.

The “Conference of Scientific Cooperation between Lower Saxony and Israel” will be organized by the Braunschweigische Wissenschaftliche Gesellschaft. We have set up an email for inquiries, do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions.

General information

Conference venue

Sessions and catering will take place at Leibnizhaus
Holzmarkt 4-6
30159 Hannover, Germany

Contact

Braunschweigische Wissenschaftliche Gesellschaft
c/o Prof. Dr. Thomas Scheper
c/o Dr. Iliyana Pepelanova Con2021@iftc.uni-hannover.de

Niedersächsisches Ministerium für Wissenschaft und Kultur

VolkswagenStiftung